

Gavin Anderson handling London's largest Tech float in over 5 years.

Gavin Anderson has been hired to advise SITRONICS, the Russian-based telecoms, IT and microtechnology company on communications surrounding its Initial Public Offering rumoured by the FT to net $2.5bn.

Byron Ousey, Dick Millard, Daniel Hunter and Michael Turner are handling the account.

The team are working with SITRONICS in-house team in Russia on the deal, which will consist of a share offering in Moscow and GDRs on the LSE.

Gavin Anderson recently advised TMK Steel, another Russian company who listed GDRs on the LSE in November.
